Dear Ivan,

As we left it this afternoon, I will be in your office Monday Morning. At that time, we will either go forward or you will return my manuscript with the proper releases.

I cannot afford unnecessary trips to New York, as I told you. If any emergency arrises and I am not at my home phone, there is a possibility I will begin the trip Sunday, in order to get to New York earlier. In that event, I will be in Wilmington, Del. at OL 4-2645
